THE RADIAL TECHNIQUE

The most effective passes could be defined as follows (see Figure 2 'THE MOVEMENT').
Your first intention is to create a 'NO GO ZONE' along the top edge with the brush at an angle (1, 2, 3) (not wetting above the agitation), so the future up/down strokes (4) do not go as high as the top frame, ensuring the jets do not wet above the agitation:

1. PASS ACROSS THE TOP OF THE WINDOW TO WET THE WINDOW FIRST, with the brush angled at 30-45-90 degrees (see videos) to avoid wetting above where you are agitating. (Figure 1)

2. Bottom (off-center left) to top center, angling the brush through the movement so it is at 30-45 degrees by the time it hits the top frame. (Figure 2)

3. Top-center to right corner, roll through the corner as many times as needed to dig out debris, follow right frame down to bottom right corner with brush angled slightly down towards the frame to the bottom corner, pull across the bottom of the frame with brush at 30-45 degrees for the width of the brush in the down-stroke. (Figure 3-1, 3-2, 3-3, 3-4)

4. Bottom (off-center right) to top center, angling the brush through the movement so it is at 30-45 degrees by the time it hits the top frame. (Figure 4-1, 4-2)

5. Top-center to left corner, roll through the corner as many times as needed to dig out debris, follow left frame down to bottom left corner with brush angled slightly down towards the frame to the bottom corner, pull across the bottom of the frame with brush at 30-45 degrees for the width of the brush in the down-stroke. (Figure 5-1, 5-2, 5-3, 5-4)

6. Clean any center area of the window that is not covered by 2-5 with straight pull strokes, maximizing the use of the brush width, angling the brush slightly left or right (no matter) to clear the debris in the water flow across the top of the brush. (Figure 6)

7. REPEAT 2-6 as required if the window is dirty, or pay direct attention to any stubborn debris - you can see debris on the glass as it interferes with a clean cascade of water - you can see the cascade goes 'around' the debris.

8. Corners can be cleaned with rolling the brush through the corner for light debris, or a more intentional and aggressive action into the corners, again, rolling the dirt down into the high volume rinse water flow (see videos).

2 · THE FIVE CONSTRUCTION TYPES

TYPE	AGITATES WITH	AGGRESSION	BEST FOR	RANGE
ALL-BRISTLE	Bristles only	Gentle	Maintenance, delicate glass and frames	RADIAL LITE, RADIAL
COMBINATION ALL-BRISTLE / DUAL-AGITATION	Bristles + a centre scrub strip	Gentle-medium	Light-duty work that still needs some bite	LITESPEED
DUAL-AGITATION	Bristles + fixed scrub pads	Medium	Everyday and stubborn debris in one pass	RADIAL ULTRA-LITE, FRENCH PANES
ROCKER DUAL-AGITATION	Bristles + pivoting pads	Medium-high	Angled or textured glass - pads stay flush	RADIAL ROCKER, DEEP-FRAME ROCKER, SOLAR ROCKER
ALL SCRUB PAD	Scrub pad only	Most aggressive	Heavy soiling, first-time cleans, paint overspray	G-FORCE

3 · AGITATION VS RINSE FLOW

Agitation is how hard the head scrubs. Rinse flow is how much water gets through the head on the rinse stroke. More scrub means less flow-through, so nothing scores 10 on both. That is why the fastest pros carry two.

BRUSH	TYPE	AGITATION 1–10	RINSE FLOW 1–10	READ IT AS
RADIAL LITE	ALL-BRISTLE	3	5	Gentle everyday maintenance
RADIAL	ALL-BRISTLE	4	7.5	Light scrub, big rinse
LITESPEED	COMBINATION ALL-BRISTLE / DUAL-AGITATION	5	5	Balanced light-duty
RADIAL ULTRA-LITE	DUAL-AGITATION	7	5	Everyday + stubborn in one stroke
FRENCH PANES	DUAL-AGITATION	7	3	Small panes - control over flow
RADIAL ROCKER	ROCKER DUAL-AGITATION	9	7.5	Heavy scrub with a strong rinse
DEEP-FRAME ROCKER	ROCKER DUAL-AGITATION	9	10	Heavy scrub, full flush into deep frames
SOLAR ROCKER	ROCKER DUAL-AGITATION	9	10	Heavy scrub, full flush across panels
G-FORCE	ALL SCRUB PAD	7	4	Ground-level glass, balustrades, no overspray
Z-FORCE PRO	WATER-FED BLADE	10	2	Max scrub, minimal flow - bonded debris

PRO TIP The fastest cleaners don't use one brush for everything. Start with two: one everyday, one for stubborn jobs.

FLAT-ON-GLASS TECHNOLOGY

When working up really close to a building, getting a pivot to work on a water fed brush is difficult as the outside edge of the brush wants to lift off the glass.
RADIAL PIVOT has solved this problem.
Engineered to match the full range of possibilities, PIVOT keeps your RADIAL BRUSH flat on the glass at all times.
PIVOT is engineered to always be tight, and you can adjust PIVOT to how 'tight' you like!
When cleaning from the top to bottom of a window, the angle of the pole in relation to the glass surface changes, resulting in varying and less bristle or pad contact with the glass through the poles' range of motion.
RADIAL ROCKER has solved this problem. When using a ROCKER, the SCRUB will remain flat on the glass through the entire range of motion.

ALWAYS ON THE GLASS

RADIAL is designed with a 20 degree range - set the brush for the middle of the window and RADIAL will do the rest - your SCRUB will always be square on the glass for amazing fast agitation.

THIS BRUSH NEVER MISSES A SPOT

DIFFERENT SCRUBS for DIFFERENT DEBRIS

A traditional window cleaner will carry a host of more aggressive materials to increase his/her speed on difficult to clean windows. Microfiber (for adding detergent), Magic Eraser (for silicons), White Non-Scratch Pad, Steel Wool, Bronze Wool, and the Blade. It makes them MORE EFFICIENT.

And so it is for the ROCKER Brushes!

When you need to scrub a window more than twice with a bristle brush for effective agitation, switch to ROCKER and SCRUBS for a more aggressive agitation, and get your agitation cycles back to once or twice again, saving your time.

RADIAL ROCKER and DEEP-FRAME ROCKER have 9 different SCRUBS (see SCRUBS later). Using a more aggressive agitation method saves time in The RADIAL TECHNIQUE exactly the same as it does for a traditional window cleaner.
